A correspondent of the the tune of $98,000 -A may Times. Chinese Mail accounts for the trouble as follows. A Chinese peddler, with shirts THE Robe Herald says :- From private &c. for sale, wished to go on board the ateamer. The Portuguese watchman insisted on being insulted before he-would alone are as follows :allow the man to pass. The Chinaman would not give the fee expected and was forcibly ejected. He persisted in coming forward and the watchman drew his sword and hit him. Thereuron a great hubbub arcas. The Captain, on learning from the compradore what had taken place, dismissed the watchman and ordered him to take off his uniform at once. The injured Chir naman was taken on board and his wound, which was only slight, was dressed. The man, however, was not content with this and demanded compensation. Compensation being refused, the Chinaman and his friends and some roughs raised a disturbance, the outcome of which was the posting of placards on the wall of the city. The placards have since been torn down.

THERE was unfortunately only a small andience at the Theatre Royal on Saturday evening to witness the excellent repre-Sentation of Bulwer Lytton's historical drama, Richelien, given by Mr G. C. Miln's company. The part of the great cardinal was taken by Mr. Miln, who sustained it in a manner worthy of so talented an actor. Every character that Mr Miln essays shows the carnest student and the conscientious artist, and in his impersonaition of Richelieu every line he spoke and every movement showed thought and judgment and an exceptional capacity for taking pains. His customary robustness of style had to be medified greatly to suit the character of the old and decrepit can; no pay.' The two chair-coolies stood statesman, and in doing this he showed consummate skill and great command over his powers. Nor did he fail to impress the audience with the intellectual vigour which "belongs to the part. THE Colony has long complained about the small supplies sent from England o an baidiary coins, from the circulation of which a substantial profit is made. Often the scarcity of small coins was so great that they sold at a pratty large premium. The unofficial members on several consions made strong representations on the matter. The Home authorities responded by sending out one or two additional I to, but the supply was seldem equal to the increasing demand. The inevitable result was that Japanese coins began to make their appearance in the colony; and now that a mint has been started in Canton, Hongkong is being flooded with Chinese coins. Chinese-competition was perhaps unavoidable, but it was not good policy to court it. Our revenue, on account of the competition, will doubtless suffer for some time. We contracts extract of a provision that work not to go away until I had done so. I fast as French makers can turn them out. his nerve. China. however, is a large country, and the issue William Des Voenz appears to have replied be done to anybody by the Ordinance, and trans-Siberian line, has already been come this reckless driving will some day result of coins at Canton may create a demand which will increase more rapidly than the supply. We need not therefore fear a permanent depreciation of our revenue from this course, more especially as our coins are likely to remain as populare if they do no bec memore popular than the Chinese coms. At the same time, the doings of the Chi ness authorities may require to be watched for some time. The profit from the issue of the coins is so considerable that there is a great temptation to rush the market The Colony just now is being deluged with Chinese 20-cent and 10-cent pieces, and it is said they are being forced at a discount. Forced circulation will inevitably tend to depreciate the coins and our own coins may be indirectly affected. We do not say that the Government ought to take steps to stop the importation of Chinese coins, that might lead to retaliation, and the exclusion of our coins from China, if it were practicable, would be a more serious mat ter than the exclusion of Chinese coin from Hongkong. The Government, however, ought to warn the Canton authorities that they are playing a dangerous game reeking to get rid of their coins through the intermediary of Hongkoug compredores -below the market rate.

THE TREATMENT OF CHINESE. To the Editor of the 'CHINA MAIL'

" Hollywood Road, No. 57, July 29th 1891. Sin .- Permit me through the medium of your columns to detail one of the many instances witnessed by me of the illtreatment by European gentlemen of chaircoolies. Last Sunday evening, as I was walking in the road to the Public Gardens. I noticed two chair-coolies carrying a European gentleman. Coming to a very steep part of the road, they let the chair down, making him know that they could not proceed any further, owing, perhaps, to the iresomeness of the long journey they had already made carrying him up these steep places. Upon this, the gentleman immediately marched off, saying angrily ' No there speechless and had the mortification of seeing their fare make off without giving. them a single cash for their toil.

Now, in your issue of Caturday. I noticed an article translated from the Chinese Mail about some hawkers being illtreated policemen. It is truly hard upon the Chinese workmen in this Colony to be thus: praise to animals, why should they let these socalled gentlemen go scotfree without bringing them to judgment for cruelty to manattention of the authorities. Thanking you in anticipation for publishing this letter, -I am, yours &c.,

> Coolies are not angels; and, not knowing the circumstances, we are not prepared to say unreservedly that the European 'gentleman' was wrong in refusing to pay his fare because the coolies set him down in the middle of the road and refused to go farther. At the same time, coulies deserve. fairplay, and no true Britisher would seek to take a mean advantage of them or expect them to do more than they can. On the whole, however, notwithstanding the cuffs he gets, we suspect the coolie finds life in Hongkong safer and more agreeable than life in China.—Ep C. M.]

SNUBBED BY PRINCESS BLIZABETH. General Groezer, prefect of police at Moscow, who has won an infamous notoriety by his severe execution of the order for the expulsion of the Jews, was snubbed by the Princess Elizabeth, wife of the Grand Duke Sergius, on her arrival in Moscow this week. On the Grand Duke formally resuming command of the city, the various officials were introduced to him and his wife. The Grand Duke treated Groezer with the same gracious condescension that he extended to the other officers, but-the grand-daughter of Queen Victoria pretended not to notice him, and looked in another future. direction when he bowed profoundly before her. Englishmen are proud of, and Jews are delighted with, her action. The Mayor of Moscow, who has been an active anti-Semite, has been notified by the Grand Duke to give an account of his stewardship although without direct reference to the Jewish persecution.
